Dear friends,

We hope this finds you all healthy and well. Despite snow on the ground on our hospital campuses, there is an unmistakable feel of spring and promise in the air. We are happy to see the number of COVID-19 patients steadily declining. With that, we are looking forward to reactivating many elements of our philanthropic and volunteer programs. One event that crosses over into both areas is our beloved TeamWalk. We look forward to supporting our patients and families in person on May 22 and hope to have a crowd that reflects our excitement. Please see the TeamWalk areas of opportunity outlined below and know how much we look forward to being together again.

All the best,

Pediatrics Department Book Drive

![Image of a group of people with books]
Recently, we had a very special donation of books for our Pediatrics Department coordinated by an amazing first grader named Abigail. Abigail wanted to share her story:

"Hi! My name is Abigail and I am from Worcester, Massachusetts. When I was born, I spent time at local..."
hospitals and in the NICU. I was hooked up to many monitors and because of this my mom and dad were not able to hold me as much as they would have liked. Therefore they read me many, many books! They wanted me to hear their voices and know that they were right there with me even if they weren’t holding me. This past holiday season we decided to have books donated for this very reason. We want all the mommies and daddies with NICU newborns to be able to read to their babies. We wanted to give the gift of a parent’s voice. Please enjoy the stories and also this very special time with your strong, brave baby!”

We are filled with such gratitude to Abigail and her family for this heartwarming and inspirational donation to support our patients and families in need!

Kindness Collaborative Gives Back
The Kindness Collaborative is a unique charitable organization that empowers and inspires members of local communities to act to support one another. We were touched when the organization’s founder, Alex Bromberg, reached out to us with an offer to support our hardworking staff as they battled the winter COVID-19 surge. The Collaborative partnered with Cobblestones of Lowell to provide an incredible dinner to the Saints Campus Emergency Department team. They also brought along homemade cards with messages of support from local children, which as you can see, put big smiles on the faces of our employees. Thank you to the Kindness Collaborative for making this happen! If you or your company are interested in sponsoring a meal or treat delivery for one of our departments, please contact philanthropy@lowellgeneral.org

Our Philanthropy Department Facebook Page is the best place to stay updated on donations from the community, upcoming events, raffle opportunities, and more! Throughout these unprecedented times, our staff and patients have been overwhelmed by your support, kindness, and generosity. We have received donations of all kinds, held traditions like Sun Santa and TeamWalk in a different setting, and have felt so connected to the community. We look forward to continuing to share these stories and promotions with you!
